Continuation of 3. NOTE: Applicant's amendments to the preambles of the claims by deletion of certain subject matter in order to make the scope of the preamble of the claims match the body of the claims would require further consideration by the examiner. At the time that the final rejection was written by the examiner, the examiner didn't know exactly what applicant was trying to claim since the scope of the preambes was different from that of the body of the claims.

Continuation of 11. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: Applicant has failed to overcome the art rejection of their claims under 102 a, and 102 e. In order for applicant to overcome the art rejection of their claims under 102 a, applicant would need to submit a certified copy of an English language translation of their foreign priority document. Since the document which applicant has submitted is not a certified document which contains a proper statement in this regard, it would fail to overcome the rejection of applicant's claims under 102 a over the prior art of record. Further, applicant's affidavit is not proper, and would not overcome the rejection of applicant's claims under 102 e. Applicant should state in their affidavit what type of affidavit they are submitting, and reference all pertinent sections of the MPEP in this regard. Also, the examiner disagrees with applicant's assertion in their affidavit of what is meant in the statue as to work being "by another". The pending patent, and the issued patent have different inventive entities, and therefore would constitute work "by another", contrary to what applicant states.
